

CN 508: Social and Cultural Diversity

This course prepares students to work professionally with individuals from populations diverse in age, disability, religion, gender roles, socio-economic status, urban and rural cultures, and ethnic origins. A primary focus of this course will be exploring cultural differences and understanding personal biases toward individuals from diverse cultures.

Hours: 3

Program: Community Counseling

Semester Offered:

Fall