

CN 511: Psychopathology II

This course focuses on factors involved in normal and abnormal development. Students will explore the etiology and diagnosis of disorders as described in the current edition of the DSM. Historical context, current research, principles of lifespan development and cultural diversity, and appropriate treatment for particular diagnoses will be explored. This is the second of two diagnostic courses covering the major DSM disorders not examined in CN 510 Psychopathology I.

Hours: 3

Program: Community Counseling

Semester Offered:

Summer