

CN 512: Marriage & Family Therapy

This course will study the numerous conceptual theories utilized in working with family systems with special attention to the theoretical and practical aspects of working with couples and families, the primary focus falling on systemic interventions. Multiple perspectives will be utilized as students learn to choose techniques that fit specific family situations.

Hours: 3

Program: Community Counseling

Semester Offered:

Summer