

CN 517: Human Sexuality

This course focuses on the sociological, physiological, psychological origins of human sexual behavior with an emphasis on the etiology of abnormal sexual behaviors displayed in the clinical populations. Special focus will be on educating students on assessing and treating topics related to sexual disorders and dysfunction.

Hours: 3

Program: Community Counseling

Semester Offered:

Summer