CS 119: Computer Applications

Non-technical introductory courses for the general student to have "hands-on" experience with the personal computer. Students will learn keyboarding and mouse operation skills as well as the basic commands of Windows 2000, and how to perform word processing, spreadsheet, and database operations using MICROSOFT OFFICE.

Hours: 3
Program: Computer Science
Semester Offered:
Fall,
Spring,
Online - Fall,
Online - Spring