

CJ 340: Policing in a Democratic Society

An examination of the relationship between law enforcement and American society with emphasis on the importance of purposes and roles in a democratic society, police-community relations and the constitutional limits on law enforcement agencies. Material presented from a theoretical standpoint and examines critical issues, advances in crime control, officer burnout; and officer stress.

Hours: 3

Prerequisites:

C or better CJ 100.

Program: Criminal Justice

Semester Offered:

Spring