

ED 511: Research in Educational Administration

The course will focus on a study of statistical concepts and assist the student to analyze and use relevant research to improve the school setting. The student will investigate the basic nature of educational research, along with methods of data collection and analysis. Emphasis will be placed on research problems, designs, and findings in the student's selected area of emphasis.

Hours: 3

Program: Education

Semester Offered:

Fall