

ED 365: Assessment and Diagnosis of Exceptional Students

Survey and study of individual tests and measures commonly used in the diagnosis of exceptional children. This course stresses the use of information from these measures for special education services and the development of individualized education plans (includes application and field experience).

Hours: 3

Prerequisites:

ED 260, ED 265.

Program: Education

Semester Offered:

Spring