

EN 305: Advocacy and Grant Writing

This skills-based course trains students in the writing techniques necessary to create positive change in the world, both locally and globally. Students focus on effective and ethical writing about and on behalf of people and social issues, and on grant writing and fundraising. Students read, write, and revise in a variety of genres used in various professions. Emphasis is placed on empowering students to write clear, correct, and persuasive prose.

Hours: 3

Prerequisites:

EN 160.

Program: English

Semester Offered:

Fall odd