

HL 260: Principles of Pharmacology

This course introduces the underlying principles of pharmacology and provides a perspective of the historical, regulatory (FDA) and industrial aspects of pharmacology. This course addresses the basic principles of drug administration, absorption and pharmacology dynamics as they relate to prescription and over-the-counter medications as well as performance-enhancing and recreational substances.

Hours: 2

Fees: $20 fee.

Prerequisites:

Admission to the Athletic Training or Nursing Programs or permission of instructor.

Program: Health

Semester Offered:

Fall