

MS 402: Mission Command and Company Grade Officer

Explores the dynamics of leading in complex situations during unified land operations, examines the Art of Command and how to properly communicate with your NCOs and Soldiers. Students will discuss numerous situations on how ethical decisions impact personnel and the unit mission. Also examines the importance of understanding culture and how it can affect your unit and mission and develops both oral and written communication skills by conducting a battle analysis and briefs.

Hours: 3

Prerequisites:

MS 401.

Program: Military Science

Semester Offered:

Spring