

NU 105: Introduction to Nursing

This introductory course is designed to allow the student to explore various roles in the nursing profession. Also included in this course are nursing history and theory, effective communication, and the need for a collaborative approach in the healthcare setting.

Hours: 1

Program: Nursing

Semester Offered:

Fall,

Spring